Additional Packaging

Due to differences in the composition of the materials used in different parts of the sock, i.e. elastic being present in the top band and not on the toe of the sock, there may be slight difference in the pantone colour achieved in the final product.

Due to the nature of the jacquard weave customisation, small details, such as small fonts may not be visible clearly on the finished product. Please keep this in mind with your design.

Due to characteristics of the process, to achieve the best results, we recommend using logos that have the same direction or are separate designs when underlying design on socks. An example: symmetrical logos for the left and right foot to print in socks and require a longer production lead time.

Design that allow specific stock colours will have the shorter production times. For colour choices or fonts, there may be additional production time required.
