Due to the characteristics of the process, adding wrong color, PVC design data or misalignment may increase the time to display the pre-production sample and the bulk production. Please talk to us before placing your order.

Due to differences in the composition of the materials used in different parts of the sock, i.e. elastic being present in the top band and not on the toe of the sock, there may be slight differences in the pantone colour achieved in the final product.

Due to the nature of the jacquard weave customisation, small details such as small fonts may not be visible clearly on the finished product. Please keep this in mind with your design.

Due to the characteristics of the process, to achieve the best results, we recommend using logos that have the same direction or are repeated designs when embrodering them on socks, as repeating symmetrical logos on the left and right foot to print to screen and requires a longer production lead time.

Designs with fine lines and small details may not be visible in the final production run. For better results, please use larger fonts and avoid production fine lines.
