With a smooth surface for accurate tracking and a sturdy base that stays put, it's built to handle daily grind with a bit of polish. Great print area, great impression – job done. Poly bagging add TBA per unit. Variable-data printing (VDP) (Also known as variable-information printing (VIP) or VI) is a form of digital printing, including on-demand printing, in which elements such as text, graphics and images may be changed from one printed piece to the next, without stopping or slowing down the printing process and using information from a database or external file. For example, a set of labels, each with the same basic layout, can be printed with a different name on each label. Variable data printing is mainly used for direct marketing, customer relationship management, advertising, invoicing and applying addressing on selfmailers, brochures or postcard campaigns.
