Description

1 seed variety. Seed paper is 100% biodegradable made from recycled paper with embedded seeds. There are three seed paper finishes to choose from. Matt white - that's made from post-consumer and recycled office paper. Kraft brown - 100% post-consumer cardboard. The Oyster grey - is made from 100% post consumer newspapers and uncoated magazines. When you are finished using the card there is zero waste; place the seed paper under a thin layer of soil, keep moist and then over a short period of time the seeds will germinate and the actual paper will eventually breakdown in the soil. Printed in full colour from supplied art and with several seed varieties to choose from it is a great alternative to commercial paper. The paper has a natural matt finish and textured surface from the embedded seeds. NOTE: Best results will depend on making sure the paper remains moist until after the seeds have germinated. Many of the seeds lay within the thickness of the paper so if not kept moist the seeds will tend to struggle to push through.
